The West Hartford Community of Concern presents

Kathi and Chris Sullivan, together, sharing their inspirational message of hope, love, change and strength.

Kathi never thought that she would be a public speaker or that she would become an advocate for the prevention of underage drinking and social host liability. All that changed one cold October morning in 2008 when she received the horrific news that her 17 year old daughter, Taylor, had been found, drowned in only two feet of swampy water as a result of underage drinking.

Chris was a football star who earned a super bowl ring in 2001 with the New England Patriots. One year later, he retired from the NFL due to his off-the-field battles with anxiety, alcohol and drug addiction. Chris draws on his personal experiences to communicate the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse. He has chosen to share his personal battle with others to create more awareness of the dangers of alcohol and drugs and coping with anxiety.
